During my life I have gained skills that I believe give me an understanding of what is required to make decisions about planning and of how to assist those in the community. I have good listening skills and through my working life have gained personal skills in dealing with people from all walks of life. In my early life I was a member of the ADF, latter to start and run my business that I operated for 15 years. During this time I have been a volunteer for Lions. My last role was as President and manager of Radio Fremantle that has a varied range of people from several ethnic backgrounds. Social amenity and the well being of the community is important to me along with the financial well being of the services that are provided to the community. To achieve this I feel I have the required skills to work with the other elected councilors to make rational decisions to maintain the strength and viability of the council.
