1. Local Government Act 1995 Delegations

1 Introduction

Council is responsible for the overall governance of the Shire's functions. The Chief Executive Officer (CEO) is responsible for the day-to-day management of the administration of the Shire's functions amongst other functions such as advising Council.

Delegation of authority, where allowed, allows for efficient and timely decision making by local governments. Conditions or limitations may be incorporated into delegations such as limiting the circumstances in which a delegation can be exercised or imposing financial or other limits to the delegated power.

The delegation of a power or duty does not preclude a delegator from exercising or performing that power or duty itself or by acting through any employee authorised, by job description or otherwise, to carry out a function as the agent of, and on behalf of, the local government in accordance with approved policies.

A person granted a delegation is not obliged to exercise the delegated power and may, if circumstances indicate, refer the decision back to the delegator. Legislation varies in how delegation of authority is provided for, including limitations, conditions and reporting or review requirements. Reviews of delegations, where required by law, are the responsibilities of the delegator.

Under the Local Government Act 1995 (the Act) and some other legislation, persons affected by specified decisions made under delegated authority have a right under Part 9 Division 1 of the Act to lodge an objection to the decision, which must be considered by Council, and/or to seek a review of the decision by the State Administrative Tribunal.

1.1 Delegations by Local Government

The Act allows for the local government (Council) to delegate to the Chief Executive Officer the exercise of any of its power or the discharge of any of its duties under the Act (except for matters referred to in section 1.2 below) in order to effectively manage the day-to-day operations of the Shire.

The main consideration for a local government when deciding if it should delegate a power or duty is whether the delegation will improve the efficiency of the local government's operations whilst ensuring that its policies are consistently implemented.

Some legislation may restrict the local government to delegating a power or function only to the local government CEO, although some acts provide for the local government to delegate to persons other than the CEO, such as other local government employees or committees. The CEO may further delegate those powers to other officers only if sub-delegation is permitted by the legislation.

The Act also allows for the CEO to delegate any powers or discharge of any of the CEO's duties to another employee other than the power of delegation itself (s5.44(4)). There is no power other than for the CEO to delegate a power.

1. Local Government Act 1995 Delegations

The ability to delegate a statutory function, power or duty must be described in a piece of legislation and is known as the power of delegation. It may be stated as a duty, function or power depending on the legislation. Delegations or authorisations may occur under legislation other than the Act, its regulations and the local government's local law including but not limited to:

- Local Government Act 1995
- Planning and Development Act 2005
- Dog Act 1976
- Cat Act 2011
- Bush Fires Act 1954 and any local law created under that Act
- Litter Act 1979
- Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1960
- Caravan Parks and Camping Grounds Act 1995
- Control of Vehicle (Off-Road Areas) Act 1978
- Building Act 2011
- Food Act 2008

A Council delegation is not required where the legislation confers a specified function or power directly on the CEO or another defined class of authorised persons.
